

Gutermute, Harriet S.

*** July 343
Harriet S. Gutermute
First Lieut. Harriet S. Gutermute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Gutermute, now of Santa Rosa, was chosen as one of 29 outstanding nurses to be enrolled in the first U. S. army corps in Great Britain.

Harriet Gutermute Oct 28 43

Lt. Harriet Gutermute, of Petaluma, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gutermute, of Santa Rosa, and a sister of S. R. Derby, of this city, has been promoted to the rank of captain in the nurses corps, according to word received from London. Captain Gutermute took about 150 young nurses to England over a year ago and established a base hospital. Prior to her going into the army nurses corps she was superintendent of nurses at the University of California hospital in San Francisco.

Harriet Gutermute

April 7-45

Highest-ranking army nurse on duty at the 30th General Hospital in Belgium is Major Harriet S. Gutermute, daughter of Mrs. Linda S. Gutermute of Santa Rosa, the public relations office at the headquarters of the European theater of operations announced.

She is in charge of a group of 10 California nurses who are caring for battle casualties and victims of flying bombs in Belgium.

The group of nurses are members of the first hospital of its type to be set up in England following the attack on Pearl Harbor. After aiding in casualties brought to England from Normandy they were moved to Normandy and later still to Belgium.

* * *

Harriet Gutermute

May 25-45

Major Harriet S. Gutermute, ANC, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Gutermute, formerly of Petaluma, now of Santa Rosa, has spent three years of overseas duty with the army nurse corps, attached to 30th General Hospital staff. She has been in England and France and is now in Belgium, according to letters received by relatives.

8-25-45
Major Gutermute Is Caring For Wounded Soldiers

In Europe caring for recuperating soldiers at the 30th General hospital, is Major Harriet S. Gutermute, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Gutermute, formerly of this city, now of Santa Rosa.

The officer, a member of the army nurses' corps, has been overseas for many months and was a member of the hospital staff while it was still under fire. Today patients are housed in modern buildings in a village near Antwerp.